

Seniors' affordable rental apartments

From $290 per week*

Independent community living with 24/7 care options

Seasons Flexi Lease aged care communities allow you to live independently in the comfort of your own self-contained apartment, with any care you require delivered in the privacy of your apartment. Our Redbank Plains community is centrally located near shops, set within garden surrounds – and offers a choice of reasonably-priced meal options.

Quality care

At Seasons Redbank Plains, you can also choose to access personalised care by Seasons' care partner Envigor, available 24/7 – from domestic assistance to personal and nursing care. Established in 2012, Envigor provides care in Seasons aged care communities, plus a variety of other retirement villages and in clients' suburban homes across Queensland. Care can be funded privately or via government-funding you may be entitled to, such as home care or DVA Nursing. A personalised care plan is developed in consultation with our care services manager who will work with you and, where appropriate, your family.

How Seasons Flexi Lease works

Our Flexi Leases are offered under General Tenancy Agreement (Form 18a), a typical agreement used in Queensland, with 6 and 12 month terms available. A bond is required, equivalent to 4 weeks' accommodation payment, and held by the Residential Tenancies Authority. Check with Centrelink or Veterans Affairs whether you are entitled to rental assistance.

About Seasons

Seasons is a private Queensland owned company founded in 2009, operating aged care communities across South-East Queensland. Two of the five owners are from hospital backgrounds and are intricately involved in the day to day running of the company. The Managing Director, with over 35 years' experience in nursing and health management, is passionate about empowering Australians to age on their terms with dignity, care and respect.
